

Getti Mercorio

COACH PROFILE

SHORT BIOGRAPHY

Getti works as an individual and team coach. His focus is on enabling people to become new observers of themselves and the systems of which they are part, and to harness their inner resources, life, and work experience – their way of being – and to use this as a foundation for further personal and professional growth. In the work environment this leads to clients becoming more productive and effective, improves their contributions to teams and enhances their development and performance as leaders. Getti builds confidential, supportive, challenging, and non-judgemental coaching relationships.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Getti has more than 30 years' experience in senior leadership roles in a wide range of contexts. A social planner by training, he has worked in education and training, artisan formation, business process outsourcing and organisational development. He did his initial coach training the University of Stellenbosch Business School in 2008. Getti has been coaching full-time since 2014, and works with individuals, teams, and groups, in a variety of settings including business, civil society, and government. He also coaches extensively as an integral part of leadership development and innovation programmes. In addition, Getti, runs a leadership development group coaching programme.

Getti has also been involved in coach training and development at the SA College of Applied Psychology (SACAP), teaching emerging coaches at Honours level, since 2016. He has a passion for developing and delivering high impact learning.
